Learning from what He Said

John 17:3 ³ "And this is eternal life, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom You have sent.

Jesus said that God wants us to know Him and His Messiah. He is a person with desires, wants, feelings, and goals in His life. This is an unusual view in the Christian world as the majority is consumed with a belief of sovereignty that effectively turns Him into a God of Stone. Just as the Pagan Greek Philosophers taught that God cannot have emotions, and nothing happens outside of His total control and design, this has also been the belief most commonly perpetuated in the Christian world.

People believe in destiny and providence in various forms because it is the most appealing to the religious flesh. The end result is that they do not know God. They might know of Him, and they might know some of the things He said and did, but they don't know Him as a person. You cannot have a relationship with a God who is not relational, and that is exactly what people imagine through their distorted views of God's sovereignty. Again, you cannot have a relationship with a God who is not relational, and a God in total control is not relational.

John 16:12-13 ¹² "I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. ¹³ "However, when He, the Spirit of truth, has come, He will guide you into all truth; for He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He hears He will speak; and He will tell you things to come.

It should be relatively obvious that neither you nor I have a complete understanding of all truth. We have a God who wants to speak to us and guide us into truth, and He does this as we are able to understand a little at a time. When a person is saved, they begin this new relationship with God, and they know very little truth. Just making the decision to surrender to the New Covenant is a challenging step for most everyone. He speaks to us through His Holy Spirit a little at a time as we live our daily lives. We ask Him questions and He responds or waits for another time to respond. He gives us insights into what He sees through our eyes and hears through our ears. He uses the experiences we have on an individual basis to help us increase our understanding of the truth. This is how He relates to us as a relational God.

When we understand the world we are a part of through His point of view, we do get to know Him more as a person. When He relates to us in our daily circumstances, we get to know Him in a unique way through our personal moments in life. We share our lives with Him, just as He shares His life with us, and this forms a unique bond between us and our God that is personal to each one of us.

God wants to be in our lives individually. He wants us to know the truth He defines and how to apply the truth in our daily lives. He wants us to learn about Him personally through what He shares about our personal circumstances. We will know Him in a way no one else can relate to when they rely on the study of the Bible alone.

For this relationship to be real, we also need to decide that we want to know Him. This is a mutual decision of God being a part of our life, and us being a part of His. You will probably have noticed that very few people want to know who He is, what He values, what He thinks, what is important to Him and what He is doing. I am confident He would like more people in His life who will relate to Him in this way, but I can tell He really enjoys the few He gets. Every generation provides Him with a new group of people.

Most Sincerely,
Aaron

Recent Testimonials

Just wanted to tell you how much your teaching has helped us (my husband and I). We listen to your radio archives everyday. I know I have listened to more than half of them, some twice.

Rockholds, KY

I am very thankful that I have you to listen to on the radio while I am driving. You are the voice of sanity and stability as you show us how to enter into His rest, by receiving His forgiveness worked completely by Jesus Christ on the cross. This knowledge is such a huge relief. What a wonderful blessing you are; preaching the Good News of Jesus Christ. Thank you very much.

San Mateo, CA

Thank you, Aaron, for your very helpful episodes discerning the difference between the dysfunctional (immature) parts of the body and the functional (mature) parts/people in the body. It is validating to hear that you also experience that it can be lonely when we understand the Fullness of the gospel and our total and complete forgiveness in Christ.

Newport Beach, CA

I live in the metro Detroit area and found your program while listening to 1200am a few years ago. Since then I've visited/listen to your programs through the livinggodministries website. I listen to your programs everyday on the way to work and when I have the opportunity, at home. I've always wanted to email you and thank you for what you teach, but felt especially compelled after listening to your work on Romans Message 51 Chapter 8:9-17 Do Not Be Afraid.

Your teachings of living by the Old Law versus the new and eternal covenant of Jesus' sacrifice on the cross for the forgiveness of sins has really helped to give peace in my heart. I am no saint by any means, but I've always felt my sins (past/present/future) were/would always be held against me. I knew deep down I would never be able to live a sin free life and did not know how to come to terms with that fact. Your teachings helped me realize that I was not the only one who felt this way. Further, your teachings helped me understand the true significance of Jesus' death and the forgiveness of sins that I may have peace in my heart, trusting in Jesus and the Holy Spirit. There is only one person/Living God who lived a perfect life.

I have listened to your Scripture teachings of John, Book of Acts, Book of Hebrews, half of Romans, and many of your series. I am still learning and listening to you and will probably re-listen to all your programs! I absolutely love how you give a historical Jewish context to that era. It truly helps me understand the significance of what Jesus did and said.

All I have to say is thank you and can't wait to listen to you for years to come!!

Detroit, MI

I have emailed you from time to time asking questions and requesting clarification of certain things you taught. I have been a Christian since approx 1994 albeit confused and rebellious most of that time but always seeking.

I want you to know that your influence through radio archives primarily has been an incredible blessing to me. The struggle of ongoing sin in my life and how to deal with it is now clear to me; at least in comparison to old way of thinking. The freedom I am experiencing, the relationship with my God, the peace and rest knowing he has already given me all things is increasingly with me.
